I. Special Conditions Foyer Global Health EU HEALTH

1. Scope of cover

The insurer provides benefits for illness, diseases, accidents, and other events stipulated in the policy.

In the event of a claim the insurer provides reimbursement of the cost of treatment and other agreed services.

Within the monetary limits of this policy the insurer pays for the medical expenses of each insured person(s) set out in the policy schedule and who have taken out cover under the terms of this policy.

2. Geographic scope

The insurance is valid for the following regions:

- ▶ Region 1: Worldwide
- ▶ Region 2: Worldwide excluding the United States

The insurance is valid for the region that the insured person's country of residence is located in.

If insurance cover relates to region 2 insurance cover shall only apply for medical emergencies, accidents and death in the event of temporary travel (i.e. for a maximum of six weeks) to region 1.

Travel for the purpose of treatment in a non-agreed region is not insured.

Any change in the country of residence of the insured person must be notified immediately, since this change affects the premium.

3. Insurability

All persons covered by the JOINT SICKNESS INSURANCE SCHEME OF THE EUROPEAN INSTITUTIONS (JSIS).

Anyone who is permanently resident in the United States will be excluded from insurance cover.

If an insured person takes up permanent resident in the United States, then the insurer will terminate the insurance relationship. In the event of moving to any other country, the insurer may on a case-by-case basis, even during an ongoing insurance relationship, check that this policy complies with national law and according to the results, decide whether insurance cover can be maintained, or the level of cover needs to be modified or terminated.

The insurer can terminate any individual insurance, if the law regarding insurance cover for nationals, residents or impatriates in a country changes with the effect that the insurance cover provided by the insurer is in breach of national law.

3.1. Pre-existing conditions

For the inclusion of pre-existing conditions from the beginning of the policy, the health questions in the proposal form must be answered truthfully to the best of the insured person's knowledge. In certain cases the insurer may ask the applicant to undergo a medical examination. Depending on the result of the medical examination the insurer can extend the policy by adding further terms and conditions, charge an additional premium or refuse the proposal/ the insurance of a person. Any illness that arises in the period between proposal and acceptance of that proposal will be considered to be a pre-existing condition.

4. Benefits

4.1. General information

The insurer will provide a 20% refund of eligible expenses, as described and to the extent set out in the following benefit overviews, unless otherwise agreed in the general conditions or definitions.

Medical fees related to severe illnesses (tuberculosis, poliomyelitis, cancer, mental illness and others recognized as having a similar severity by the JSIS) are not being reimbursed.

4.2. Benefits

4.2.1 General

The insured person is free to choose between the established and recognised doctors and dentists in the country in which the treatment is to be provided. As far as is provided for in the tariff, the services provided by other persons, who offer medical treatment may be acceptable for cover.

Medical and dental services, as well as the services provided by other medical practitioners are eligible for cover, in so far as their charges are calculated on the basis of scales of charges that are typical in that country. Cover may also apply to charges that exceed those scales if these are justified and reasonable in view of the illness and any diagnosis-related complications. In the case of practitioners such as masseurs, midwives or naturopaths, for which no separate scale of charges exists in the foreign country, the insurer will use the comparable remuneration for doctors or else the usual prices in that country.

In cases of reimbursement of dental technical laboratory work and materials the insurer will use the average prices in that country. Dental prostheses, dental implant services and orthodontics when these services are performed by a doctor, they will also to be regarded as services by a dental practitioner. They are not the subject of outpatient or inpatient treatment. The insurer provide cover within the policy scope for examinations or treatment methods and medications that are recognised by orthodox medicine. The insurer also provide cover for methods and medicines that have been seen to be effective in practice or are used because no orthodox medical protocol exists. The insurer may however reduce the benefits payable to the level that would have applied if available orthodox medical protocols and medicines had been used.

Detailed benefit descriptions for inpatient treatments

General hospital treatment and accommodation and care in a single or twin-bed room

When medical treatment becomes necessary in a hospital environment then the insured person can choose freely between hospitals in the country where treatment is to take place. Treatment in a hospital means any treatment, in which the person to be treated is admitted to a hospital for at least 24 hours to be treated medically and receive care.

When medically necessary treatment is carried out in hospitals that also provide cures or sanatorium or convalescence treatment, cover is only provided for those benefits set out in the policy and where the insurer has approved these in writing before the start of treatment.

The insurer provides cover for the duration of inpatient treatment without any time limit.

Medical services (including pathology, radiology, computed tomography, magnetic resonance imaging, positron emission tomography)

Cover shall apply to the expenses incurred for the necessary medical treatment as an inpatient for examinations, diagnostics and therapy.

Hospital costs, including operating room, intensive care and laboratory work

This refers to other costs for the use of specialised facilities such as operating rooms, intensive care units and the laboratories.

Surgery and anaesthesia

This refers to costs incurred for the necessary services, such as for example medical services, anaesthesia and the use of specialised facilities. Expenses for outpatient surgery are also eligible in so far as these replace an inpatient stay.

Operations performed as an outpatient instead of inpatient

Outpatient treatment, which can be performed in a doctor's surgery or in a hospital, but does not require to be followed by a stay overnight and a hospital stay.

Drugs and dressings

Drugs, dressings, treatment and medical aids must have been prescribed by a competent medical authority in the hospital during an inpatient stay. In addition, the drugs must have been obtained from a pharmacy or by another source that is approved by the authorities.

Classic homoeopathy medicines are also considered as fully-fledged medicines.

Nutritional food, tonics, mineral water, cosmetics, products for personal hygiene as well as bath salts are not considered to be drugs.

Physiotherapy, including massage

Physiotherapy and massages must have been prescribed by a hospital doctor as part of inpatient medical treatment. In addition, they must be performed by a doctor or a certified therapist. The prescription must be issued before the start of treatment and mention the diagnosis and the type and number of sessions.

Therapies, including occupational therapy, light therapy, hydrotherapy, inhalations, packs, medical baths, cold and/or heat treatment, electrotherapy

These physio-medical services must have been prescribed by a hospital doctor as part of inpatient medical treatment. In addition, they must be performed by a doctor or a certified therapist. The prescription must be issued before the start of treatment and mention the diagnosis and the type and number of sessions.

Therapeutic aids and appliances

Cover applies to costs incurred for those therapeutic aids and appliances that serve as a life-saving measure or directly mitigate or compensate for physical disabilities, such as cardiac pacemakers and artificial limbs/prostheses (except dentures). These must be adjusted during the inpatient stay and remain in or on the body. Expenses for the repair of such medical aids are eligible for reimbursement under the above terms and conditions.

Services for pregnancy and childbirth, services of a midwife or attendant in the hospital

The insurer will cover eligible expenses up to EUR 4,000* for childbirth in a hospital, a maternity or a comparable institution, as well as the expenses for nursing care at home or domestic help, that is necessary due to the pregnancy or pregnancy-related illness, as well as for the services of a midwife or attendant.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Pregnancy and childbirth complications

The insurer will cover eligible expenses in connection with premature birth, miscarriage, abortion, stillbirth, ectopic pregnancy, molar pregnancy, caesarean birth, post-partum haemorrhaging, placenta retention and complications from these conditions.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Newborn Care

Medical expenses cover for newborn children begins immediately after the birth, without any waiting period and without risk assessment. This is providing that on the date of the birth of the child, both parents have been insured with the insurer for medical expenses for at least three months, and the request for insurance of the child is received not later than two months after the birth with retroactive effect to the first of the month in which the child was born. Insurance cover cannot be wider or more comprehensive than that of the insured parents. New-born children may only be insured in insurance plans that are available for new policies.

If the biological mother is still within the waiting period for pregnancy and childbirth cover then medical expenses will not reimbursed for this. However, there is insurance cover for newborn care as long as the above conditions are met.

If an under-age child is adopted, then an individual medical risk assessment shall be carried out for insurance purposes. For technical reasons a surcharge of up to 500% of the tariff rate may be applied after the risk assessment

Congenital conditions

The insurer provide cover for eligible expenses up to a maximum amount of EUR 50,000 for the entire lifetime for all disorders or diseases found at birth, anomalies, birth defects and malformations, errors during birth, prematurity and malformations including related illnesses.

Psychiatric services

The insurer will refund the expenses for psychiatric services as part of inpatient treatment, provided the insurer have given prior written approval before the beginning of the treatment.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Inpatient Psychotherapy

A prerequisite for refund is that treatment is given by a psychiatrist, a psychotherapist or a doctor further trained in the specialist field of psychiatry, psychotherapy or psychoanalysis. For inpatient psychotherapy the insurer provide cover only if and to the extent that the insurer have given prior written approval before the beginning of the treatment

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

* The quoted amounts apply – if not otherwise specified – per person and insurance year

Refund of parent's costs when accompanying a child under 18 for inpatient treatment

The insurer will refund the additional expenditure for the prescribed presence of a parent at the bedside of a child under 18 admitted for inpatient treatment.

Home nursing care and domestic help

The insurer will assume the eligible expenses for prescribed home nursing care and domestic help by appropriate, trained persons as a substitute for a medically recommended hospital stay or to shorten such a stay. Home nursing care is in addition to medical treatment and is refundable in addition to this. The insurer will refund this for a maximum of 90 days per hospital stay after written approval.

Daily hospital allowance for inpatient treatment where no claim has been made on the insurer

The insurer will pay a daily hospital allowance of €40* for inpatient treatment where no claim has been made on the insurer.

Inpatient rehabilitation

Costs are refundable for inpatient rehabilitation in continuation of medically necessary inpatient hospital treatment, for example, after bypass surgery, a heart attack, organ transplantation, as well as operations on large bones or joints, provided and to the extent that the insurer have given prior written approval. Inpatient rehabilitation must in principle begin within 2 weeks after discharge from the hospital. Cures and stays in cure establishments, spas, sanatoriums and convalescent homes as well as in nursing homes are not insured. The insurer will refund inpatient rehabilitation for a maximum of 35 days per hospital stay after written approval.

Day hospital (partly inpatient) treatment

Day hospital treatment shall mean treatment in a hospital without overnight stay. The length of the stay in hospital is between eight and 24 hours.

Transport to the next available suitable hospital for primary care after an accident or in an emergency

The insurer will reimburse the reasonable transport costs to the nearest suitable hospital or to the nearest suitable medical facility.

Fertility Treatment

Detailed benefit descriptions for outpatient treatments

Medical services (including pathology, radiology, computed tomography, magnetic resonance imaging, positron emission tomography)

Cover shall apply to the expenses incurred for the necessary medical treatment as an outpatient for examinations, diagnostics and therapy.

Eligible expenses are among other things costs for pathology, radiology, computed tomography, magnetic resonance imaging, positron emission tomography, as well as for vaccination and prophylactic measures.

Health check-ups

Routine health checks are examinations or screening tests carried out, without the presence of clinical symptoms.

These tests, which are carried out for the purpose of detecting anomalies or illnesses depending on age, include the following examinations:

- ✦ Vital parameters (blood pressure, cholesterol, pulse, breathing, temperature, etc.)
- ✦ Cardiovascular examination
- ✦ Neurological examination
- ✦ Cancer screening
- ✦ Paediatric screening
- ✦ Diabetes screening
- ✦ HIV and AIDS screening
- ✦ Gynaecological check-up.

The insurer will reimburse these services up to an amount of EUR 100* per year of insurance.

Services for pregnancy and childbirth, services of a midwife or attendant

The insurer will cover eligible expenses up to EUR 1.000* resulting from pregnancy, or a pregnancy related disease, including (routine) screening, childbirth and the services of a midwife or attendant. For women over 35 this includes amniocentesis and nuchal translucency measurement.

* The quoted amounts apply – if not otherwise specified – per person and insurance year

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Pregnancy and childbirth complications

The insurer will cover eligible expenses in connection with premature birth, miscarriage, abortion, stillbirth, ectopic pregnancy, molar pregnancy, caesarean birth, post-partum haemorrhaging, placenta retention and complications from these conditions.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Congenital conditions

The insurer provide cover for eligible expenses up to a maximum amount of EUR 50.000 for the entire lifetime for all disorders or diseases found at birth, anomalies, birth defects and malformations, errors during birth, prematurity and malformations including related illnesses.

Acupuncture, homoeopathy, osteopathy and chiropractic, including medicines and dressings

The insurer will only cover eligible expenses if the above treatment is carried out by doctors or other practitioners, who can prove they have certified appropriate training in the country where the treatment is given and that they are approved or authorised there to dispense such treatment.

The drugs and dressings prescribed by those doctors or physicians in the course of the treatment are also eligible for reimbursement.

The insurer will reimburse these services up to an amount of EUR 1.000* per year of insurance.

Speech therapy

In speech and voice disorders the insurer will cover eligible expenses for prescribed practice sessions, provided that these are conducted by a doctor or speech therapist. The insurer provide cover for this only if, and to the extent that the insurer have given prior written approval before the start of the treatment

Psychiatric services

The insurer will refund the expenses for psychiatric services provided the insurer has given prior written approval before the beginning of the treatment.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Outpatient psychotherapy

A prerequisite for refund is that treatment is given by a psychiatrist, a psychotherapist or a doctor further trained in the specialist field of psychiatry, psychotherapy or psychoanalysis. The insurer will refund the expenses for outpatient psychiatric services provided the insurer have given prior written approval before the beginning of the treatment.

A waiting period of 10 months applies.

Drugs and dressings

Drugs and dressings must be prescribed by a medical doctor or dentist or an authorised practitioner. Such drugs must come from a pharmacy or other officially approved supplier. Nutritional food, tonics, mineral water, cosmetics, products for personal hygiene as well as bath salts are not considered to be drugs.

Physiotherapy, including massage

This means physio-medical services (physiotherapy and exercise therapy, massages), that are available on prescription. In addition, they must be performed by a doctor or a certified therapist. The prescription must be issued before the start of treatment and mention the diagnosis and the type and number of sessions.

Therapies, including occupational therapy, light therapy, hydrotherapy, inhalations, packs, medical baths, cold and/or heat treatment, electrotherapy

These are physio-medical services (occupational therapy, light therapy, hydrotherapy, inhalations, packs, medical baths, cold and/or heat treatment, electrotherapy and exercise therapy) for which a prescription is required. In addition these must be provided by a doctor or certified therapist and must have been prescribed by the doctor as part of outpatient medical treatment. The prescription must be issued before the start of treatment and mention the diagnosis and the type and number of sessions.

Therapeutical aids and appliances

Costs eligible for refund are those incurred for the purpose of outpatient treatment for orthopaedic and prosthetic appliances, as well as other devices which are used to prevent physical disabilities or directly to mitigate or compensate for this. Medical aids must be prescribed by a doctor and must not be considered as general consumer goods.

Medical aids for the purpose of outpatient treatment shall mean: Bandages, trusses or shoe inlays, crutches, hearing aids, compression stockings, artificial limbs/ prostheses (excluding dental prostheses), lounge and seat pans, orthopaedic body, arm and leg support devices and speech equipment (electronic larynx).

The following medical aids are eligible only after the insurer's prior written approval: Wheelchairs, cardiac and respiratory monitoring devices, infusion pumps, inhalation devices, oxygen equipment and surveillance monitors for babies. Other aids are not considered as medical aids.

Expenses for the repair of such medical aids are eligible for reimbursement under the above terms and conditions. Expenses for sanitary supplies such as pads and massage devices for example, as well as for use and maintenance of such aids are not eligible for refund.

Vaccinations and immunizations

Costs incurred for preventive vaccination and prophylactic measures are refundable, in so far as they are recommended for the insured person's particular country of residence, including the medical costs for the administration of the vaccine and the cost of the vaccine itself.

The insurer will reimburse these up to an amount of 100 EUR* per insurance year.

Visual aids, including Eye Test

Costs incurred for spectacle frames and lenses, as well as contact lenses and refraction measurement are refundable up to EUR 250* per year of insurance.

Transport to the next available suitable hospital for primary care after an accident or in an emergency

Cover shall apply to the expenses of transportation to the nearest suitable hospital for primary care after an accident or in an emergency.

Fertility Treatment

After prior written approval the insurer will bear the costs in the terms and conditions of the agreed scope of cover, as for example for the following recognized treatments:

- › In-vitro fertilisation (IVF)
- › Intracytoplasmic sperm injection (ICSI)

* The quoted amounts apply – if not otherwise specified – per person and insurance year

Costs will be assumed under the condition that

- ▶ At the time of treatment (first stimulation day of each cycle or else the first cycle day if insemination without hormonal stimulation) the woman has not yet reached the age of 40 and the man 50.
- ▶ there is organic-related infertility of the insured persons that can be overcome by means of assisted reproductive techniques alone
- ▶ Medical assessment has ascertained a significant possibility of success of over 15 % for the selected method and that the man and the woman have international insurance with the insurer.

The insurer will refund the costs incurred in connection with undergoing fertility treatment, including diagnosis and treatment, up to a maximum of EUR 3,000 for the whole contract duration.

A waiting period of 24 months applies for both spouses and partners.

Assistance in choosing the prescribed medication, comparable preparations and their side effects

- ▶ Information on drugs and their side effects and interactions with other preparations and pre-existing medical conditions.
- ▶ Information on comparable and identical preparations

Medical support and advice prior to travel (vaccinations, putting together a first-aid kit)

- ▶ Medical information on standards of hygiene in the country of residence
- ▶ Advice and information on recommended vaccinations for the country of residence, especially in the event of pre-existing medical conditions
- ▶ Support in putting together a first-aid kit with due consideration for the standards of hygiene and weather conditions in the country of residence.
- ▶ Advice and information can be obtained from the insurer by telephone and email.

3.3. Additional Services

There will be an entitlement to receive "additional services" if the insurance service is agreed for the insured party in accordance with the certificate of insurance (CP).

Overview

Return transport to the country of residence

Organisation of patient visits for relatives

Delaying the return journey

Procurement and dispatch of essential drugs

Organisation of return transport or childcare

Transfer of the mortal remains and organisational support in the event of death

Help with any psychological problems arising from the stay abroad

Document storage (storage and obtaining replacements in the event of loss)

Arrangement of legal assistance in the event of legal difficulties

Arrangement of a relocation service

Arrangement of intercultural training (information on the local culture)

Return transport to the country of residence

When it is agreed by the insurer, and it is medically necessary to transport the insured party for treatment, the insurer will reimburse the transportation costs (first class rail ticket, Economy Class flight) for the insured party's return trip to the country of residence, subject to prior agreement, up to a value of EUR 3,000.

Organisation of patient visits for relatives

In the event of inpatient treatment due to an emergency, the insurer will organise the visit of one family member to the place of treatment and back home and will pay the travel costs up to a total of €3,000*, if the inpatient treatment lasts at least 7 days and the insurer's cost payment guarantee is available. (The costs of a first class rail ticket and Economy Class flight will be paid).

Delaying the return journey

If the return journey from the country where the patient is staying has to be delayed (when travelling back to the country of origin/home country or to a new country) due to a medical emergency affecting an insured party, resulting in the inability to travel, the insurer will reimburse the costs to change/cancel the hotel and flight bookings up to €3,000*.

Procurement and dispatch of essential drugs

If an insured person takes essential drugs that are not available in the country where the insured person is staying, the insurer will endeavour to obtain these drugs as quickly as possible. This is provided that the drug is legally approved in the country where the insured person is staying, and its import does not contravene any legal regulations.

Organisation of return transport or childcare

- ✦ In the event of both parents being required to stay in hospital because of a medical emergency, the insurer will organise childcare by a suitable service provider, and will pay the costs for this, for the duration of the inpatient treatment but no longer.
